SENATOR HARRISON OPENS DEMOCRATIC DRIVE FOR CONTROL

Gives Sarcastic Description of President's Attitude Toward Primaries.

PENNSYLVANIA CONTEST PROVOKES "KEYNOTE" in Republican Ranks Is Expressed.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

The Demorcatic drive to control the next Senate, which has been quiletly organized for some time, broke into the Congressional Record yesterday when Senator necord yesterday when Senator Harrison opened fire on the alleged policy of President Coolidge toward Republican primaries in connection with the senatorial contests this fall. Mr. Harrison chose the eve of the Pennsylvania primaries for this "keynote speech" because he believes the difficulties of the Republicans are apparent in connection with the Pennsylvania contest.

"That is a real contest." the sen-ator said, "between three real Re-publicans, men who are sent throughout the country in every election campaign to make speeches, gentlemen who have gone into their jeans and contributed generously to the Republican party, one of whom at least has kept the fires burning and formed an organization in Philadelphia second to none in the whole United States and when the call comes he always delivers his usual 150,000 or 200,000 majority.

"As a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, Mr. Vare without exception has been true to the administration. He has praised Calvin Coolidge on the floor of the House and on the hustings and his poli-cies. Certainly Gov. Pinchot was the man who was sought by President Coolidge to go and settle the great coal strike, thereby giving his indorsement to Pinchot for the favors he extended.

Mellon's Oratory.

"Here is Andrew Mellon, If there are two spokesmen of the White House, Mellon is the other one. He never made a political speech, he said, in his life before.

"He could say that again," interjected Senator Caraway.

"But he wrote his speech or some-body wrote it for him," continued Senator Harrison. "It is not said whether he memorized it or not, but

Mr. Harrison then read from newspaper reports to show that the administration was urging the choice of Senator Pepper, and that choice of Senator Pepper, and that President Coolidge wanted Mr. Pepper named in the primaries.

"So at least he has done for Pepper what he was due to do for Mr. Watson, Mr. Oddie, Mr. Shortridge, Mr. McKinley and these other Republicans coming up for reelection," continued Senator Harrison.

"Did I understand the senator to say he had 'done for' Pepper?" asked Senator Caraway.

asked Senator Caraway.

"Yes," responded Senator Harrison, "Pepper is done for. So in sending Mellon and Secretary Davis and Mr. Mellon's mentor, the junior senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. Peed, hes thrown every weight.

Reed, he has thrown every weight of opinion in behalf of Pepper into his campaign."

The Democrats do not expect the factional fight in Pennsylvania to give them a chance in that State, but they are hoping that the Coolidge they are hoping that the Coolidge they are hoping that the manner of the coolidge they are hoping that they are hoping that they are hoping they are hoping that they are hoping that they are hoping that they are hoping they are hoping they are hoping they are hoping that they are hoping they are hoping that they are hoping they are ho administration's attitude to ward other Republican primary battles may increase dissention in the Republican ranks. In either event the Congress will be able to write "finis" on its achievements within the next fortnight. If they do not wind up that ay—as for instance, should resident insist on action on French debt, or should the House get together on some sort of farm bill—then adjournment will be handicapped, although not very much interfered with.

The French debt arrangement is most pressing. President Coolidge is rather inclined to feel that this ment will be postponed for weeks There is a feeling, in the Senate, a least, that acceptance of the recom-mendations of the American debt commission of the latest proposals put forth by France would be a mis-take. This will mean a long drawn out argument and a whole lot of trouble which will leave the adournment up in the air.

Farm Proposals Complex. The agriculture proposition not so much complicated. The House has the cards in its hands. House has the cards in its hands. Should it reach any kind of an agreement as to how the various proposals can be handled it will be able to impose its will on the Senate. ENFORCEMENT BILI REOPENS DRY LAW BATTLE IN SENATE

Administration Measure, Urged by Andrews, Reported by Judiciary Body.

WILL NOT PASS ACT THIS SESSION, WETS PREDICT

Opponents Plan to Offer Proje ects for Modification as Amendments.

(By Associated Press.)
The battle between the wets and the drys in the Senate was re-newed yesterday with the formal reporting of the administration's new dray law enforcement bill from the judiciary committee.

In presenting the measure,
Chairman Means of the subcommittee which held extended hearings on the prohibition question dethe judiciary committee. clared it was based upon the experi nce of the Treasury Department in enforcing the Volstead act.

Coincident with the submission of the committee report, Senator
Edge, Republican, New Jersey, a leader of the wets, issued a state-ment in which he asserted that the new measure was a "direct and un-mistakable" admission that the Volstead act "can never be en-forced." He added that the proposed amendments that act indi rectly encourage law violations.

Defeat Predicted. Senator Means expects to call up the bill in the near future, but the wets predict that it will not be passed at this session. They plan to offer as amendments the bills which they have introduced for modification of the Volstead law.

While the Senate was receiving the measure the House passed and the measure, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing an appropriation of $9,000,000 to be used in the construction of ten cutters for the coast guard, which is charged with controlling liquor smuggling from the sea. In recommending the new en-forcement measure urged by Assis-tant Secretary Andrews, in charge of dry law enforcement, Senator Move to Postpone Means said it was not intended to interfere with legitimate business, but was intended to aid the govern-ment in its attempt to eliminate illegal manufacture, use and sale of intoxicants. Referring to the section of the bill permitting the search of dwell-ings where liquor is manufactured for commercial purposes, Senator Means said it was not intended that the home of private citizens should be invaded. He added that the ob-ject was to reach only those dwell-ings that had been converted into distilleries. "The source of supply of liquo traffic being more and more limited by enforcement officials, the traffic is being forced to manufacture its own product." Senator Means said. "Takes Up French Debt "They have ingeniously taken ad-that such manufacture is for the purpose of 'barter or exchange'

According to the declaration filed for Holland by his counsel, Iredell Meares, Mr. Mellon approved the order of the committee of July 2, 1925, disbarring land from practice before the reau of internal revenue, which disbarment was ordered principally upon the charge that Holland had been disbarred by the District of Columbia Supreme Court on May 2, 1925, after a trial.

Borah Urges Return Of Alien Property

(By the Associated Press.) Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asked the Senate yesterday to dispose of the alien property question at this session and break up "this shameless rendezvous of ex ploitation.' 'It is our duty to dispose of this problem now," he said, "if we have a settlement we have got to have an accounting. I am afraid that is feared. The facts already revealed, I am afraid, will not be a circum stance to what will be revealed."

In favoring the return of the property to former owners, Senator Borah declared "confiscation never rah declared "confiscation never had a place in this country's creed."

Mrs. Coolidge Given Homespun Wool Dress

(By the Associated Press.) A homespun dress, woven by two Italian women, was presented to Mrs. Coolidge at the White House yesterday by fourteen women, members of the Mothers' Club of the North Bennett Street Industrial school, of Boston.

It is of white wool, trimmed in black and designed for sport wear. It was woven by Mrs. Louisa Guari-no and Mrs. Maria Memassi, who, on account of home duties and modest circumstances, could not be here for the presentation.

Andrews' Trip Made Steps looking to the postpone ment of the proposed trip to London by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews to negotiate anti-liquor smuggling treaties, have been initiated by the State Depart-

It is believed that the American delegation comes to Geneva absolutely openminded, and as Secretary of State Kellogg has said, with the realization that while the United States is in a fortunate situation with respect to security, other countries are faced with different problems.

Viscount Cecil did not seem optimistic about quick results. In an interview with the correspondents tonight, the emphasized that the situation was complicated by the conditions in eastern Europe.

"By this," he added, "I mean the situation are regards Russia, and not Poland."

It would need long and laborious preparation before a conference could be convoked, and this, he was convinced, must not be called before reasonable success was assured. It was rumored in Geneva tonight that several countries would be unable to take the preparatory work seriously because of the still unsetted political situation in Europe.

This impression was strenghtened when it was announced that neither Dr. Edouard Benes, of Czechoslova-kia, nor Dr Ninchitch, the Jugoslav foreign minister, would attend the properatory work seriously because of the still unsetted political situation in Europe.

Geneva, May 17 (By A. P.).— An intimation to Spain and Brazil that their mandates as temporary members of the League of Nations council may end even sooner than was expected is contained in a draft of a report adopted at its first reading today by the commission studying reorganization of the council.
The report recommends that the

The report submitted today stipulates the rotation of nonpermanent members of the council with the proviso that one-third of the number shall be eligible to reelection as soon as their three-year term expires. To satisfy those delegates who felt that it should always be possible to get rid of undesirable members on the council, the report declares that the assembly, by a two-thirds majority, may call for an election of all nonpermanent members at any time.

should be less successful than any other cooking operation—when the cook can depend upon her stove.

THAT is the statement of six famous cooks who have just completed a practical cooking test of the Perfection Stove. All six agreed in praising the Perfection highly for its baking ability, as well as for its general performance.

"Speaking of cakes, half the making is in the baking," said Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans, domestic science specialist.

Delicate Angel Food

"An even temperature must be maintained while an angel food and other cakes are baking," added Miss Margaret A. Hall, nutrition expert of the Battle Creek College of Home Econo-mics. "When I baked cakes in the Perfection oven I used a standard, portable oven thermometer as a check. The flame did not creep or crawl. You can depend on the Perfection flame to remain as you set it."

"My orange cakes and devil's foods were delicious," commented Mrs. Kate B. Vaughn, Los Angeles, household economics director. "The air circu-lation in the Perfection oven seems perfect. All excess moisture was carried away.'

"It's the 'live heat' of the Perfection Oven which brings such good re-sults," said Mrs. Rorer, famous Philadelphia cook.

"The Perfection oven is so roomy that there is room for several cakes at a time," said Mrs. Belle DeGraf, San Francisco. "And, through the glass door of the oven you can see just how they are baking. No need to open the door and lose any heat."

THE PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARY.

Today in Pennsylvania will be held the most important and significant primary election in any State this year. It will determine whether the Republican voters of Pennsylvania will respond to the appeal of the administration in be half of Senator Pepper or whether local conditions and the liquor question shall sway the majority of Republicans.

Senator Pepper has the earnest support of the national administration, represented by Secretary Mellon, who in his modest way has become a power in Republican national politics. The supporters of Senator Pepper insist that Republicanism is at stake, and that should he be defeated in the primary it would mean the turning over of the great Keystone State either to the radical element headed by Gov. Pinchot or the so-called "gang control," represented by Mr. Vare.

The situation in Pennsylvania is not dissimilar to that which existed in Missouri a few years ago, when Senator Reed was a candidate for reelection. Every influential newspaper in the State was against Reed. So in Penn sylvania every paper of any importance is against Vare; yet it seems that Vare, who is admittedly the candidate of the "wets" on a Volstead law modification platform, has some advantage over his opponents, because the prohibition vote will probably be split between Pepper and Pinchot.

Should Senator Pepper triumph, it will mean a great victory for the national administration. Should either Vare or Pinchot win, the politicians will read into the result a rebuke of the national administration's policies. Although both Pinchot and Vare assert their loyalty to the Coolidge administration, it is well under stood that Secretary Mellon spoke by the card when he recommended the renomination of Senator Pepper. His defeat, after such marked evidence of presidential preference, could not possibly be regarded with satisfaction by the heads of the Republican national organization.

Remember, a swat in time saves 9,999,999.

AGRICULTURAL COSTS.

Producers of cottonseed oil, peanut oil and soya bean oil propose to make a test of the question whether agricultural costs shall be included in the total cost of production of a domestic commodity as compared with a similar and competitive commodity imported from a foreign country. Probably they will be joined by the American producers of cane and beet sugar. This is an important point, since difference in cost of production here and abroad is supposed to be the true measure of an adequate protective tariff.

The director of the bureau of markets in Georgia petitioned the tariff commission to include agricultural costs, but the commission denied the petition until all parties interested might be heard. This hearing will take place

May 25 next. Thus far the commission in all its investiga tions regarding vegetable oils, as well as in the case of sugar, has taken the cost of the raw material as equivalent to its cost as a factor in determining cost of production. The only about $6,549,000 has been recaptured by the government. This is because the commission has not yet completed valuations.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has been struggling since March, 1913, with the problem of valuation of the railroads of the United States. Up to October, 1925, tentative valuation reports had been issued on more than half of the carriers and the total mileage.

Both the government and the railroads have spent many millions of dollars in the work of valuation, and the work still drags; and changing conditions make the figures dubious.

This work of valuation of the railroads grew out of the radical hostility to railroads prevailing about 1912 and 1913. It has been of small worth to the commission or the people and has given rise to almost endless disputes and hearings embalmed in reams and volumes of printed matter.

The whole method of valuation now may be reviewed. If it is sustained, all well and good; but if it is upset, it may have to be gone all seems to have no terminal facilities.

The lilies of the field toil not, and are plucked. It's just opposite among people.

THE PORK BARREL.

The Senate yesterday approved the confer nce report on the public buildings bill, thus taking another step in the execution of a program for placing public buildings where they are not needed except for political purposes The Senate thought it was doing very well when it took from the Secretary of the Treasury the authority to locate buildings where they are actually needed, and specified that every State should have a building if it could show that any postoffice within its confines had reported receipts of $10,000 annually. But the conferees went still further and made this measure an ideally perfect pork-barrel bill. They inserted a provision that every State should have two buildings if it could show a single postoffice earning $10,000 annually. 'Well done," said the Senate as it adopted the report without a roll call.

So the way is well prepared for the expenditure of $100,000,000 on buildings, two to each State, whether the State needs them or not. Maybe some senators will generously stand aside and waive the right to claim two buildings, so that other States may have four. Maybe they will-but human nature will have to undergo a convulsion before senatorial courtesy can be extended to such lengths.

But, after all, what is $100,000,000 when spread over five years, 48 States, 96 senators and 435 representatives? The slice of pork that will reach each legislator is small indeed. Compared with the hogshead of other days, this pork barrel is wasplike and emaciated. This is a rich country—a ten billion dollar country; and when the Treasury is to be tapped for special interests generally, with a Haugen bar'l to be filled here and a Boulder dam to be filled there, how can a State be denied a couple of structures for politics' sake? Put the cost down to the promotion of esthetic culture, and it is cheap. Think of the uplift to the hillbillies when they gaze upon the parthenons and agoras that will rise in the midst of their tin garages and drug-store speakeasies. From this viewpoint Congress is right; and if it is right. it may well stand aghast at its own modera-

FIT FOR CIVIL LIFE.

Secretary of War Davis calls attention to the fact that a large proportion of the enlisted men in the service are being trained, not only for war but for civil life. In each month 44,000 of the 118,000 enlisted men in the army are engaged in pursuits that will fit them for times of peace.

More than 4,000 men are engaged in telegraph, cable or radio employment; over 7,000 are engaged in motor transportation; more than 9,000 are engaged in clerical work, fitting them for civic jobs. Six hundred men are engaged in work on leather and its care and preservation; while many are engaged in printing, railroad transportation, and other nonmilitary activities.

Thus the money spent in maintaining an army of 118,000 enlisted men is not all devoted to war or preparation for immediate conflict. While the men are trained and kept fit for emergencies, they are also prepared for useful peacetime pursuits. Like the navy, the army is a splendid school for young men Wonderful age! Flying to the pole in an airship! Getting in touch with civilization by radio! Hearing a saxophone!

The Federal Reserve Board reports that for a period of eight months past commodity prices have had a gradual but continuous decline; and that in March the average of prices was more than 5 per cent below last summer and at the lowest level since the autumn of 1924.

In the spring of 1923 prices were at a peak having advanced about 15 per cent from the low point in January, 1922. During the early months of 1923 industrial production had proceeded at a rapid pace; and by June, 1924 prices of nonagricultural commodities had declined about 12 per cent, while prices of agricultural commodities showed a much smaller reduction. After the middle of 1924 prices of nonagricultural commodities remained fair ly steady, while prices of agricultural commodities advanced and subsequently declined wholly in response to the law of supply and demand. During the last eighteen months industrial activity has been unusual, the average for the first quarter of 1926 being larger than at any previous similar period. Wage earners are all employed at high pay. There are nation-

Bradley insisted early in the year that his should be returned to the government. This horses would lead home the field. He was not is called the "recapture clause." Although six discouraged when he saw Bagenbaggage beaten plished the defeat of his entry. He had full and confiding faith in Bubbling Over, a blond son of North Star, which, he says, is the great est horse he has ever bred. This means a great deal from the owner of the Idle Hour Stock Farm, who has sent to the post some of the greatest thoroughbreds in recent years.

Bubbling Over's victory over the greatest field of 3-year-olds that has gone to the post in a decade was earned so easily that it seems to make him the outstanding racer of his age. His trainer, after the brilliant effort of his pet, "To say that Bubbling Over is the best horse that I ever trained is putting it mildly. I would like to see any trainer anywhere who ever trained a better horse."

Great as Bubbling Over may be in the estimation of his owner and trainer, it is hardly likely that turfmen old in the lore of the race course will admit that this son of North Star and Beaming Beauty can yet be compared with Man o' War or certain other great racers. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that Man o' War was the greatest horse of the American turf-greater even that Salvator, conqueror of Tenny in the most noted match race ever run in this country save only the wonderful contest between Parole and Ten Broeck at Pimlico back in the "seventies," when Congress adjourned to see the race. Bubbling Over will have to prove himself; Man o' War did.

THE TREATY WITH TURKEY.

The treaty with Turkey lags in the Senate without any appearance of a good reason for failure to ratify it. There is opposition to it on the part of a few sentimentalists and interested parties, and a well-financed propaganda has been active in spreading tales of Turkish atrocities in the hope of defeating the treaty. These tales are not verified, but on the contrary the Turkish republic seems to be going about its business with remarkable sanity and enlightenment. The modernization of Turkey is one of the recent phenomena that astonish the world and disconcert its pessi

The United States has every incentive to ecognize the Turkish government and to enter into cordial relations with it. American interests would be well served by the treaty. The abolition of capitulatory rights is well offset by the progress of Turkey in establishing jus tice and maintaining public order and credit Now that Turkey is a republic, showing every evidence of good faith in the maintenance of good relations with other nations, it would be inconsistent to demand that Americans in Turkey should be immune from the processes of Turkish courts. The Turkish government would doubtless be vigilant in protecting American citizens under its jurisdiction.

The time has passed when cooked-up stories of Turkish atrocities can be accepted by Americans without question. The Turks are building up their country with great energy, along democratic lines, and the old intrigues of imperialism are over. American traditions approve of cordial recognition of such efforts to establish government by the people.

Intolerance is just resentment of the fact that your legs are no longer good for dancing

RETIREMENT FOR AGE.

"As unchangeable as the laws of the Medes and Persians" would appear to be the retirement rules in some of the departments. definite policy has been established by the department with respect to retirements, and all employes are consistently retired upon reaching retirement age," was the answer of one of the department heads to a request for the retention of a specially trained and valuable employe who had reached retirement age.

A fixed rule in the matter of retirement is an excellent policy in the case of routine workers in the departments, but in the case of men of scientific training, and especially in the case of those who have pursued a special line of research, some discretion might be used without detriment to the service or injury to its morale.

It would not be difficult to point out the great work in the interest of mankind that has been accomplished by men who have passed the biblical "threescore and ten." Tennyson wrote his most famous poem during the last year of his life, and he died at 82. William Ewart Gladstone continued as prime minister of England until he retired at the age of 85. Thomas A. Edison is 79 and still active. "Uncle Joe Cannon was still an active member of the House at 80. If the retirement rules of the government had been strictly enforced during the late war the country would have been deprived of the services of men above 70 in military and civil life who were called back to activity and rendered invaluable aid.

Cabinet officers might well exercise the discretion given them and "raise the limit" in cases wherein it can be shown that the government will be the gainer through the retention in office of specialists doing good work, notwithstanding their advanced age.

If Hubbard were doing it now, that chap who carried a message to Garcia would be called a go-taker.

French is the traditional language of diplomacy, though English has recently in part supplanted it. A trained diplomat is still supposed to speak French: but many who can read it speak it badly.

There is a Babel of tongues, more or less, at international gatherings. Is it possible that a failure to agree may be due in part to the fact that the delegates understand one another imperfectly? This may not be very much of an argument for the strange forms of utterance invented by ingenious linguistic invented by

When East Doubts West By GLENN FRANK

LOT has lately been written about the rising tide of color against A white world supremacy. The colored races of the East are pictured as poised to spring at the throats of the white races of the West. I have long thought that a deeper revolt against our Western civilization is under way, a revolt that is inspired not so much by hatred of the white man's power as by an utter disbelief in the white man's lutionary New England history

Dr. Silver, whose committee plans nation-wide campaign to improve the eyesight of motorists, has studied the relation of defective vision to automobile accidents and is one of three man who will attempt to of three men who will attempt to remedy this grave situation.

"The driver of an automobile may have fairly good vision." he said, "but if it is below a certain standard he is as dangerous to himself and to public safety as an intoxicated driver. It is the split second that counts in an auto accident and it is the split second that is lost when vision is not up to that standard."

Moral Obligation.

Asking the thousands of Post radio fans whether they would ride on a train behind a blind engineer, he declared that all railroads test the vision of their train operatives; that many motor bus companies demand normal vision in their drivers, and that every auto driver Fridell made a pleas should feel it a moral obligation to National Theater Players.

There are so many "sides" and isituations; so much business; so much running hither and yon; switching on and off of lights; groping, galloping, gunning and gerrymandering that the wonder is Clifford Brooke ever got his cast through rehearsals, let alone a first night which—truth to tell—was rather slow motion; but, making this allowance, the players got away in good style.

Some idea of the play may be gleaned from this: Richard Quaile, gleaned from this: Richard Quaile, a producing manager, has hired an old theater in New York to put on a play, "The Snare," which had suddenly come to abrupt ending when its manager-star, Woodward, when its manager-star, Woodward, mysteriously disappeared. There was hint at foul play, and all that sort of thing. The theater remained closed until this attempt at reopening by Quaile. He assembles a cast and goes to work. Everything but the devil himself shows up to thwart his plans—and therein lies the fun of the play; a real bit of old-fashioned melodrama.

To Kathryn Givney falls the comedy role; that of a burlesque queen making her first splurge in the legitimate field. She is a modernized version of Sheridan's Mrs. Malaprop, with all the shadings and appropriate inappropriateness of her kind; the wrong word ever in the right place. or the other way round. The fair Kathryn does herself proud. So does Romaine Callender who, last night, brought the play back to life in the last act in a scene that has seldom been equaled by the National Theater Players.

Leneta Lane and John Warner

Leneta Lane and John Warner Leneta Lane and John Warner have the lead roles—star and leading man of a play within a play. Charles Hampden is exceedingly well cast as the producing manager, the fellow who puts on "The Snare." William Phelps manages to get much out of a low comedy part. With the rest of the regular cast going strong, there is outside help from a number of "limbs of the law." They play the opus all over the house—up and down the aisles, and in the boxes, as well as on the stage.

A sort of mystery play, "The Last Warning," is a worthy stock offering, and, as the nights go on, it will undoubtedly be rendered with much more speed and precision.

60 Children in Performance as Part of Observance of "Good Will" Day.

Sixty children appeared in a play entitled "Good Will, the Magician," give in observance of "good will" day in Friendship house, 326 Virginia avenue southeast, last night. The play will be repeated this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It was given prematurely last night in order that parents who would not be able to attend in the day could witness the performance.

The District committee on expansion of underground mains in advance of street paving yesterday notified the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. to extend its conduits in Second street, northeast from T street, to V street. The conduit of the Potomac Electric Power Co. in the same place was also ordered extended, as well as the conduit in Third street southeast between South Carolina and Virginia avenues. All contemplated work was ordered installed in K street northwest between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets and from Connecticut avenue to Eighteenth street.

The bride became a national char-

The bride became a national character, talked about almost as frequently as Clemenceau, Foch or Poincare. She made a visit to the United States and Canada in 1922, where she gave her interpretation of Moliere's classics.

of Moliere's classics.

The great comedienne, although veiling the civil and religious marriage with ut most secrecy, had among her witnesses two newspaper men, Leon Balby, editor in chief of the Intransigeant of Paris, and Adrien Fauchier, another Parisian journalist.

journalist.

The star said her one day's honeymoon would be spent in the village of Martigues, near this city. She is due in Paris tomorrow to resume her stage work.

Mile. Sorel was born September 17, 1875, and her real name is Celine Seure. Her aged mother attended her wedding today. Sorel's stage charm comes in part from the ligrary abraical average and the stage of the second stage charm comes in part from the vigorous physical exercise and severe massage which she indulges in. She is not afraid take stage falls and plays such roles as Katherine in "Taming of the Shrew" with such intenseness that she has been known to slide over the footlights into the spectators' laps, only to rebound un-hurt. The bridegroom belongs to the old family of De Segur-La Moignon, which has furnished numerous ambassadors and members of the French academy.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17. Contributions of $1,000 each from Assistant Secretary of War Hanford MacNider, past national com-mander of the American Legion, and from C. H. MacNider, his father, for the American Legion endowment fund for disabled veterans and orphans of the world war, were announced here today by National Commander John R. Mc-

Quigg.
Of the $5,000,000 sought 4,500, 000 has now been raised, according to McQuigg, several hundred war orphans are being cared for from the income of the money already in hand.

ready in hand.

Under the leadership of Major General William G. Price, jr., of Philadelphia, legionnaires of Pennsylvania started today on a final drive to raise $300,000 remaining of a state quota of $800,000 for the, fund. The board of directors of the Tompkins County war chest at Ithaca, N. Y., voted last night to turn over a residue of $8,000 to the fund.

INDICTMENTS VOIDED BY LACK OF A WORD

Trenton, N. J., May 17 (By A. P.).—Conviction of Harrison W. Noel, sentenced to die for killing Raymond Pierce, a negro taxicab driver, was set aside today by the court of errors and appeals, which, by a vote of 12 to 1, held that he was so insane that he could not be held accountable for his crimes.

The killing of Pierce last September was preparatory to the kidnaping and slaying of 6-year-old Mary Daly, of Montclair. Noel has not syet faced trial for the latter crime. The slaying of Pierce occurred in Essex county, and the other crime in the adjoining county of Passaic. Prosecutor Bigelow said the court's decision virtually meant that Noel could not be retried.

"We presented all we have on the subject," he added, "and have nothing more to give."

Prosecutor Barnitt, of Passaic county, on the other hand, intimated that he would have the youthful slayer brought to that county to face the murder and kidnaping indictments in the death of the little girl, in the event that Essex county did not move for a retrial.

San Antonio, Tex., May 17 (By A. P.).—Omission of one word in a Federal grand jury indictment fointly charging eight Mexican political refugees with conspiracy—to violate the neutrality law resulted today in virtual quashing of the indictment.

Rodney and Dick Starmount was the same that Kathlyn into the ambulance Starmount hears a familiar voice in the crowd remark that Kathlyn must have gotten wet the night of the murder. He cannot find the owner of the voice. It worries him. In a casual conversation with Dr. Johnson, called to attend Kathlyn. Starmount learns the doctor left his car where Rodney left his when calling on Rathlyn. The doctor tells statement is delighted to get the clue. As Evans and his lawyer enter the building to go before the coroner's jury an attendant hands Evans aletter. It is unsigned, but says Foss had wronged a wife and the husband is avenged by his death. The inquest brings to light 'the short, thick-set man,' seen by Dr. Johnson, in the vicinity of the Foss murder. Wandly maid to Kathlyn, led hear het which after yeard west cond on the Leonard premises. As Kathlyn, in a hospital battles pneumonia, her husband and Starmount see in 'the short, thick-set man,' a clue. Police find Evans flager prints on the revolver found in Foss pocket. Starmount shows his friend, 'Jim' Kirby, star reporter for The World, Kathlyn's revolver, which Evans had placed by mistake in Foss' pocket. Supplied no points to Vermous Steffman, of the stock exchange, the starmount believes her guilty.

"But Kathlyn, you know that Rodney did not do it."

The woman on the bed moved uncomfortably. Instead of saying "Yes, I know that," she asked—"Tell me, Dick, how can I help. You know I would give my life to help—you know—yes, I would even take upon myself the blame of it all.

Manay Parey -

I am sorry, Mrs. Rice, but it is necessary for the Housekeeper to know a bit more in detail what it is you wish of your appointment. Will you fill in another blank and send it to me, please, with more information as to your particular need? I will then send you a card at once.

As this is Tuesday, and a warm weather Tuesday, let us have a really light supper to follow our duck on Sunday, and then, on the morrow, do a sufficient amount of midweek marketing to provide for the remainder of the week's menus, at least as far as the main dish is concerned.

We have had a variety of these main dishes of late, and yet for some time we have neglected the pinch friend of the housewife, the potroast. If one has a Dutch oven, a potroast is a matter of small concern, and if one does not have one, a bean crock is quite as suitable and successful, or one may use a pressure cooker. This meat may be pressure cooker. This meat may be served hot one night and provide cold meat the next night—and then a hash or meat encaserole for still a third night, which safely delivers us to the threshold of Saturday's producting the safely delivers. SMOCK NO. 2589.

The practical smock can also be highly decorative, as in this model, which is very like a dress. It is especially effective when made of striped silk, with plain vestee, cuffs and collar, and a row of bright and tiny buttons at the neck. Bloomers included. For sizes 6 to 12 years.

In this manner, where menus are carefully planned and amply provided for in the quantity as well as quality of our buying, we may go from day to day hardly realizing that we are a maidless housekeeper struggling through the dreadful heat of summer months, and we may even come to discover that housework is, after all, easy and something of a pleasure. So then for a potroast, and for tonight the wild extravagance of a cup of cream and a half teaspoonful of cream and a half teaspoonful of is hot, then put into it ten or twelve ard is hot, then put into it ten or twelve ard safter all, easy and something of a pleasure. Tea. The recipe for stuffed celery, hot biscuit, whipped applesauce and nut cakes we have previously had, and they are undoubtedly in your files. If any one has missed any recipe to which we refer in the menu from day to day we will be glad to send it to them upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

Curried Sardines. Mix together one teaspoonful each of sugar and curry powder and a saltspoonful of salt. Put these in the upper part of the chafing dish (or the upper part of the double boiler) and add one cup of cream and a half teaspoonful of lemon juice. Sir until the mixture the sauce over the top and garnish with a round of apple. The slices of apple will retain their shape if the apples are cored and then cut into rounds without paring.

Vegetable Salad Suprise.

Cook a few string beans, pear and carrots together with an egg that has been well washed and is allowed to cook with the vegetables only long enough to hard cook it. When the vegetables are tender remove them from the fire, drain them, and after they have cooled sufficiently, place them in the ice-box and chill them thoroughly. Mix a dressing of equal parts salad oil and vinegar, adding salt and pepper to taste and allow a clove of garlic to stand in the glass re-cepticle in which the dressing is mixed. Have at hand a medium more an elab.

Of course, the cuticle should not be cut. This seems an obvious caution, but a surprising number of people, including manicurists, make this mistake. Always push the cuttle gently back with a blunt, not too hard, instruments, such as the end of an orange-wood stick wrapped in a wisp of cotton. If the cuticle is stubborn, give it a week ly soak in hot olive oil and each might anoint it with a greasy cream.

Each time, after washing the hands, it is a good plan to push the cuticle of each finger back, using the thumb of the opposite hand under a towel. And, of course, a lottion or hand cream should be used, not only for the sake of the cuticle, but for the whole hand.

Our pie party, which is to take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock, will be followed next week with a cake party, and Mrs. Shorey, who sent the date of this party has been announced you may send in the coupons, and again, the first that come will be the ones to which we shall mail cards in reply.

Conduct and Common Sense

ENGLISH AS SHE IS

"Isn't it possible to use too good "Isn't it possible to use too good English?" asks one person patheti-cally, and "isn't it possible to add new words to the language?" asks another, evidently terrified by the fuss we make about our modern fuss we make about our modern tongue. "Too good English" doesn't seem likely to be much of a menace. Too ornamental English we have already deplored as a vulgar refinement. Simple, unpretentious words are usually best, yet even among them, oddly enough, some of those which are right in themselves become second-rate because they are used with too much effort and elegancy by too many people; such, for instance, as the word "correct" (which we have grown to hate as we hate black beetles), a perfectly good word in beetles), a perfectly good word in itself, but one that has been ex-ploited by seekers after etiquette till the sound of it is positively obnoxious.

Some unpretentious words used by the untrained are wrong, how-ever, and set educated ears on edge; like "bug"—of which there is only one kind that is generally unmenone kind that is generally unmentionable—for beetles; "brainy" for clever; "act" for behave, and (this is really a test word) "party" or "parties" for person or people. One of the first things a good secretary learns not to say is "Put this party's call on Mr. So-and-So's wire." If she can not say this lady's or this gentleman's call, she'd better say "Please put this call on Mr. So-and-So's wire."—That at least is inoffensive. fensive.
As for new words, a language would be dry and dead without them. Slang often describes new conditions or old emotions more pic-turesquely than any other form of expression.

exchange have been altogether too pessimistic as to the motor outlook, the point of saturation is too far away to warrant the liquidation that has taken place in the stocks. There is a very general belief among bankers and captains of industry, as well, that the salvation of the motor business depends on consolidation of the big producers, mass production and low prices, and the development of the highest efficiency in every direction. In short conditions such as developed in the steel industry a quarter of a century ago, are now coming to sight in the motor industry. will it earn? . . . These questions must be answered correctly if an income-earning structure is to be oundly financed by first mortgage real estate bonds.

Correct estimates cannot result from guesswork. They call for technical knowledge of real estate, building construction and finance. They require intelligent analysis of local conditions.

The Miller Underwriting Departm system of dependable appraisals which has been proved fundamentally accurate and conservative.

First of all, the value of the property is fixed by our own expert appraisers. Then it is checked and confirmed by appraisals from real estate firms, rental agents, architects, contractors, banks or other authorities.

Similarly the earning power of the property must either be known from past operations or determined by our appraisers and confirmed by real estate dealers, rental agents or other authori-ties, who have intimate knowledge of local conditions and the earnings of similar structures.

As an example of the soundness of appraisals on earning power, consider Blind Brook Lodge, the first apartment structure in Rye, suburb of New York City. Actual leases signed to date exceed by 33 per cent the appraised rental per room of which the $900,000 bond issue was made.

Another example of Miller conservative appraisals in a different and much discussed section of the country is the Granada Apartment Hotel, Miami, Florida. In 1922, a $300,000 bond issue was secured by a building appraised at $607,750. The building was so profitable that on November 15, 1923, bonds to the amount of $29,000 were called at 105. In 1924 the property was sold for $800,000. All this occurred before the recent boom,

Cheating at Solitaire

S LIPPING in a few cards out of turn to make them come out right is never really beating the game, and the only possible victim of your dubious triumph is yourself.

And when you invest in questionable stocks you are tickling one side of your pocketbook with false savings while losses take big bites out of the other side.

For 57 years investors in our First Mortgages have won safety and a liberal interest return. We now have on hand some attractive issues yielding 61/2 per cent.

Five and One Half Per Cent Gold Bonds

(ISSUE OF JUNE 1, 1926)

Due June 1, 1931

Maryland Trust Company, Baltimore, Md., Trustee Principal and interest payable at the Maryland Trust Company, Baltimore, Md., or at the Bankers Trust Co., New York.

Interest payable semi-annually June 1st and December 1st. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500, registerable as to principal. Subject to redemption on any interest date in whole or in part at 101 and accrued interest. Legal opinion of Niles, Wolff, Barton and Morrow, Baltimore, Md.

Dated June 1, 1926

The National Union Mortgage Company makes available to investors guaranteed real estate mort-gages with unusual diversification and safety by uniting under one bond issue the direct obligations of successful mortgage companies, national in the scope of their combined activities and operating under standardized requirements.

SECURITY

111 E. Redwood Street

Chas. P. Shaeffer

All the collateral deposited with the trustee to secure this issue consists of direct obligations of approved mortgage companies operating as described below, and / or cash or United States Government bonds. These direct obligations are secured by first mortgages on fee simple real estate guaranteed, or insured by one of the Surety Companies mentioned below. The par value of the deposited collateral must equal or exceed outstanding bonds.

MORTGAGES

The guaranteed first mortgages mature in from one to not over  $12\frac{1}{2}$  years, and all the collateral held by the trustee to secure National Union Mortgage Bonds is synchronized in maturity to the maturity of the bonds outstanding, includ-ing this issue. The practice of each approved Mortgage Company is to require annual reductions on all mortgages exceeding five years; thus reducing the average life of the mortgages and assuring constant reappraisal. As mortgages mature under each trust indenture, there may be substituted with the trustee, cash, United States Government Bonds and / or guaranteed mort-gages meeting the "Standardized Requirements" of the National Union Mortgage Company; otherwise bonds must be redeemed.

GUARANTEES

The first mortgages securing the bonds deposited as collateral for this issue are each guaranteed as to principal and interest by one of the following surety companies:

Capital Total and Surplus Resources (as of December 31, 1925) United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., Baltimore ......$12,516,956.23 $46,104,048.15 National Surety Company, New York

Maryland Casualty Company, Baltimore

Fidelity & Deposit Company, Baltimore 36,567,245.00 20,403,411.56

STANDARDIZED REQUIREMENTS

Before any first mortgage bonds may be deposited under this issue the issuing company must meet the following requirements, as certified by the National Union Mortgage Company:

No mortgage company may deposit bonds secured by first mortgages issued in excess of 60% of the value of the property as determined by the appraisers approved by both the National Union Mortgage Company and the guaranteeing Surety Company.

Each mortgage company must confine its operations to cities and other communities in the United States approved by the National Union Mortgage Company and the guaranteeing Surety Companies. No farm mortgages may be deposited under this issue.

Each mortgage company must unconditionally guarantee the principal and interest of the respective first mortgage bonds accepted from such company to secure this issue. No mortgage company may have bonds outstanding in relation to its capital stock in excess of the proportion allowed the Federal Land Banks under the present Farm Loan Act.

5. The payment of the principal and interest of the first mortgages or first mortgage bonds securing this issue must be insured against loss by one of the above mentioned Surety

6. All the first mortgages protecting this issue must be assigned to and deposited with an approved bank or trust company as Trustee. Such bank or trust company certifies that the principal and interest is insured against loss by one of the above mentioned Surety Companies and further certifies that the improvements on the mortgaged properties have been insured against damage or destruction by fire.

The trust indenture, form of guarantee or surety bond, and other legal details must be approved by attorneys employed by the National Union Mortgage Company.

RAIL SHARES ARE QUIET

Special to The Washington Pest.
New York, May 17.—In the last hour of a day of rather general, and in some directions, extended declines in stock values on the New York Stock Exchange, short covering caused recovery of much of the lost ground. The technical rally was aided by a moderate amount of real buying, but throughout the session trading on the whole, as heretofore, was so professional in its character that few deductions could be drawn from the course of prices, aside from the inference that public interest in the share list is still at a minimum.

Transactions were in only fair volume, approximating 1,060,000 shares. The oils were the only consistently strong group in the list. Selling covered on the motors, rubbers and merchandising issues and certain specialties. In those apparently scattered liquidation was done, but the chief pressure originated in the camp of the bears who persist in their theory that business in the lines specified has gone back sufficiently to justify a pessimistic attitude.

Paul Florence Bought by Giants

Former G. U. Catcher Traded by Indianapolis for Pair.

Bushmen Get Hartley and Wisner; McGraw Is Desperate.

C INCINNATI, Ohio, May 17.
John J. McGraw, veteran pilot of the New York Giants, is sending out S O S calls. The recent serious slump of his team before and during its current dis-astrous tour of the West—has Mc-Graw greatly distressed, if not a bit panicky.

He is calling out the reserves, naking and proposing radical deals, and exerting every effort to get together an aggregation of ball players that will return New York to the thick of the National league pennant race.

Tonight he bolstered the Giants' catching staff by trading the veteran backstop, Grover Hartley, and the promising young pitcher, Jack Wisner, to the Indianapolis American association dish for Catcher can association club, for Catcher Paul Florence. Hartley goes outright, but the Giants retain an option on Wisner. Florence was a star athlete at Georgetown and had a trial with the Giants in the paring of 1924. He is said to be spring of 1924. He is said to be a uch improved player this year.

ANDREW COHEN, young Jewish shortstop of the Waco (Texas) club, who has been sent for, will report here tomorrow or Wednesday. Cohen was already the property of the New York club, but was not to be delivered with the not to be delivered until the end of the Texas season. Recent defeats of the Giants and Travis Jackson's injury impelled Mc-Graw to call the Hebrew in-fielder in.

Pitcher Tim McNamara has been sent to Toledo on option. Travis Jackson is enroute to New York to rest and have his injured knee

Paul Florence, while at Georgeown during the span of 1921-1924, was one of the Hilltop's most famous and accomplished athletes. It was in football as end and captain of the team that Florence gained the most renown, but his baseball prowess also was a common topic in college circles and among big league scouts.

It was Florence's slugging and fine throwing while a catcher at Georgetown that earned him his first big league trial. He went south with the Giants in the spring of 1924, but was handicapped by injuries to both knees suffered in football. He was farmed out to the Springfield club of the Eastern league and later was sent to Indianapolis, managed by Donie Bush, former Washington manager.

At Indianapolis Florence soon earned the regular catching assign-ment and was rated among the foremost backstops of the American

4 Homers and Double For Virginia Leaguer

Portsmouth, Va., May 17 (By A. P.) .- John (Al) Malonee, left fielder for the Richmond ball club, Virginia league, today clouted four home runs and a two baser in six trips to the plate, as Richmond was trounc-ing Portsmouth 17-5.

This performance, said to be a record for all time in the Virginia league, ties the major league records for home runs and extra base hits in one game, and breaks the big league mark of 17 for total bases. Maloned is from Baltimore and is a lefthanded hitter.

T ALK to the white haired gentry, who T ALK to the white haired gentry, who remember when baseball was a real infant, and they will invariably tell you that scientific batting died when Wille Keeler left the game. In the mind of the "old timers" there never was and never will be a batter who could place his hits with the same uncanny ability as the Liliputian fielder who played on the Highlanders back in the on the Highlanders back in the embryonic stages of the Ameri cmbryonic stages of the American league.

This column may be accused, therefore, of seeing much without justification, but Stanley Harris is giving every indication of developing into a place tion of developing into a place hitter of considerable parts. This is not intended to convey the impression that he has or is going to put Willie Keeler to shame, for that day is far off.

Harris is, however, using his head at the plate to a degree that more ball players could well emulate, if possible. In this day of free swinging the players are more inclined to get a toe hold on the ground and a a toe hold on the ground and a strangle hold on the bat and let everything else take care of itself. Harris, at least, can not be accused of following that fallacious doctrine.

More than once this year Harris has picked his opening and dumped the ball through the apparent and gaping hole the opposing defensive. Some time ago he perfected the rolling bunt down the first base line which pulls both the first baseman and pitcher out of position. More recently he has been hitting behind the runner with considerable suc-cess. For the sake of those who may not know "hitting be-hind the runner" means placing the ball in the hole created when a base runner pulls an infielder out of his natural position by a dash for the next base.

Ruether, Ogden and Ferguson Fail as Errors Abound.

Cleveland Obtains 19 Hits for 27 Bases in Loose Game.

By N. W. BAXTER,

BaseBall with a decidedly low Comedy touch was in order yes-terday at American League park, when Cleveland tossed Wash-ington overboard to the count of 12 to 5. As a skit the proceedings were riotous for the humor was broad and tickled the risibilities oi every spectator in the fair-sized Monday crowd. The bladder, the slapstick and the stuffed club were slapstick and the stuffed club were in frequent and effective use. Baseball of major league variety was conspicuous by its absence.

The disintegration of visiting clubs here this spring has becomproverbial, but yesterday afternoon the Nationals contracted a violenicase of the same malady. Washington was weak on the offense once. Garland Buckey left the Garland Buckeye left the game, sloppy on the defensive and the three pitchers used—Ruether. Ogden and Ferguson—had nothing much but bad health much but had health.

Even the umpiring got to be slightly chaotic so that in the ninth inning Hildebrand retired the Cleveland team on an imaginary force out at home plate. He deserved e vote of thanks instead of the "rasp. berry" that greeted him.

THE fact that the game was the first of those that will start at 3:30 o'clock, pos-sibly can not be said to have had anything to do with what transpired, but the suffering after 5 o'clock on a day such as yesterday always seems to be

Cleveland has made practically no additions to its forces since last season, when it was a door-mat for most of the other entries in the league, and when Coveleskie set it down with seven hits Saturday, all of the Harrismen chirped up with "I told you so's." But the home boys have now changed their minds somewhat.

In order to get the edge in the set, Harris has Walter Johnson groomed for this afternoon's fracas. The Old Master has been given all the rest he requires and looks to be at his best right now. He probably will find Sherrod Smith, another old-timer, opposing him, which means that all the dope indicates an entirely different type of game from yesterday's slap-bang of game from yesterday's slap-bang

It might also be mentioned that the Nats' second place in the standing is at stake today. The Mackmen have been coming along fast and are right on Washington's heels. A Philadelphia victory this afternoon, with the Indians beating the home team. would send the Harrismen skidding to third.

Cobb's Tigers will be here tonorrow when the final lap of the nome stand against Western invaders will be made. As Detroit and Washington are arch-enemies, four redhot battles are looked for.

I he same discussion comes up when a fly-hawk makes an apparently perfect peg to head off a runner at home and the ball bounds over the catcher's head.

The extra base has to be accounted for some way and, as the backstop did not have a chance to catch the ball, an error could not be charged to him.

Joe Sewell threw his bat at one of Ruether's offerings in the third and was lucky enough to hit it just over Harris' head for a clean single which scored Speaker.

Buckeye, the mastodon flinger of the Indians, doubled to deep center in the fourth and then was so winded that he went to sleep on second. When Jamieson followed second. When Jamieson followed with a walk, Garland trotted to third only to find Bluege waiting to welcome him with a pat on the back with the ball. BRADLEY'S TONEY ran a very fair race when he finished close up to Mickey Free. That effort repeated would make him dangerous in the opener.

In this general fattening of batting averages by the Indians, seven of the visiting firemen hit for .500 or better. Spurgeon led the onslaught with a percentage of .800, with 4 hits out of 5. Joe Sewell accumulated two safeties in three attempts. Tris Speaker clouted for .600, as did Luke Sewell. George Burns, Garland Buckeye and Benny Karr reached halfway to perfection in batting.

Washington got a fairly good washington got a tarry good start in an offensive sense against Buckeye, who has never finished a game against the Nationais, but when Karr took charge in the fifth he stopped them dead and allowed only one hit, a single by Ruel, for the remainder of the contest. Ruel, Mc-Neely and Harris got two hits each, Goslin one, the rest of the team

Something must be said of the horrible way in which both teams threw the ball around. The error column, showing four for Cleveland and three for Washington, reveals the presence of considerable loose fielding, but there was even more than that. The Indians played their basketball in the opening innings. Washington waited until later in the game and gave Cleveland material assistance in piling up the lead which it had at the close of hos-

Crandall Insects Win Over Silver Stars, 20-8

The Crandall Insects swamped the Silver Stars yesterday, 20 to 8. Albert Miller hurled for the winners, while Morris, Kierman and A. Miller featured at bat.

O'clock this morning and the pairings then would be made.

Mrs. Albert von Steinner, Indian Spring, who won the event last year, will be among the competitors today, while among other players will be Mrs. J. R. DeFarges, Mrs. Swill be Mrs. J. R. DeFarges, Mrs. Sprageon singled, the section out. Spurgeon singled, the section out. Spurgeon and Speaker scored and Summa forced Burns for the final out.

Washington's last run in the fourth was the result of Ruel's two base hit and sacrifices by Ruether and McNeely. Harris got a double before the inning ended but it went to waste.

THE Indians caught up with the procession in the fifth. After Spurgeon had lifted a pop foul Speaker singled, Joe Sewell walked and Burns brought them both in with a double.

Owing to the small number of entrants, the golf tournament of the members of the Newcomers' club, scheduled for yesterday on the Washington club course, was not played, although the few who made the round of the course during the afternoon gathered with their fellow-members at the dinner, which was given at the clubhouse in the evening.

at third trying to stretch the hit. The relay was Rice to Peck to Bluege.

In the ninth inning the Indians sampled Ferguson and asked for more. Lutzke and Luke Sewell singled and Karr-walked, filling the bases with neatness and dispatch. Jamieson hit to Harris for what looked like a sure double play and the Washington manager booted the ball, enabling Lutzke to score and leaving the bases still very, very full.

Spurgeon singled to center, scoring Luke Sewell and Karr. McNeely's throw to catch the latter was wild, which enabled Jamieson to come home and Spurgeon to reach third. Speaker hit to Judge on the bag. The relay home got there just as Spurgeon did, but apparently Ruel did not tag the runner. Hilderbrand called him out and that was that despite considerable argument.

TWO FAVORITES FALL AS WARDMAN NET PLAY OPENS

Stanley Carr Winner Over Mitchell in Feature Match.

By JUNO KINERK.

WO upseats featured the first day's play in the fourth an-nual Wardman park invitanual Wardman park invitational tennis tournament first round matches yesterday. The favorite who went down were Paul Harding and Owen Howenstein. The former bowed to Milton Yates, a newcomer in local net circles, in straight sets, 7—5, 6—4, while Howenstein lost to Jack Dudley, former Swarthmore star. Dudley's victory was to the tune of 6—4, 6—1.

Except for these two matches, however, favorites came through in the expected winning fashion, although several of them had close calls. Tom Mangan, District champion, who already has two legs on the beautiful championship cup, won his two sets from H. Callan with the loss of but one game, while Clarence Charest, holder of one leg on the trophy, dropped one game in each set to Frank Taylor. One of the outstanding inci-

One of the outstanding incidents of the first round play was the fact that there was but one default, J. D. Noel winning from P. Emmes when the latter was not present at the scheduled time.

THE feature match of the THE feature match of the day was the one between Dooley Mitchell. Western High star, and Stanley Carr, with the latter winning after three stiff sets. Carr won the first set, 6—3, and Dooley reversed this score in the next set. In the final set Carr broke through his opponent's service with games 4-all and then clinched the victory on his own service.

Fred Haas, the Georgetown captain, was forced three sets to gain the verdict over Edward Dowd.

Jack Regan, Catholic university's leading player, went down in defeat to W. C. Baum, the middle Atlantic intercollegiate champion, in straight sets, both 6—2. Bill Hicks, Regan's doubles partner, had better fortune than his mate, and took the measure of W. Hoffman, 11—9, 9—7.

Entries in the doubles tournament close today at 6 p. m. and the committee hopes to get the first round of matches started Wednesday.

Central Nine Downs Mount St. Joe, 15 to 4

Central's extra-base sluggers went on a rampage yesterday and took kindly to the offerings of two Mount St. Joseph's pitchers to hang up a 15 to 4 victory over the Baltimoreans. Leading the Central attack were Byng and Simmons, the former tripling with the sacks loaded in the third off McGrath. Then in the following frame, with Rochet pitching, Simmons knocked a homer to score three mates ahead of him.

Milburn did the hurling for Central and kept his nine hits scattered. Milburn was backed with perfect suppost, while the visitors were charged with three errors of commission and several of omission, which are not counted.

O'Rourke Making Bid Extra-Hole Matches for Bout Between Dempsey, Wills.

OFFER

EW YORK, May 17 (By A. P.).—Undiscouraged by Jack Dempsey's previous rejection of an $800,000 offer in preference to signing with Tex Rickard for a heavyweight title bout this year, Tom O'Rourke, veteran promoter, today announced, on behalf of a New York syndicate, an offer of $1,000,000 to the champion for a match with Harry Wills.

O'Rourke declared that $250,000 of this sum would be posted in Dempsey's name with any holding agent as soon as the champion signed articles to meet the negro challenger and be forfeited in case the man of the tournament, won his match from Mai Pratt. 2 up and 1 lenger and be forfeited in case the fight failed to come off. The re-mainder, he said, would be posted 48 hours before the fight. In addition, Dempsey would be guaranteed 50 per cent of all gate receipts in excess of $2,000,000.

excess of $2,000.000.

O'Rourke declined to identify his backers in the syndicate, which proposes to erect a stadium in Long Island City, but insisted it was a bona fide offer, aimed at determining whether "Dempsey is sincere in his expression of readiness to fight Wills." The bout would be staged in September or October, O'Rourke added.

EMPSEY set his figure at $750,000 when I first asked him his terms for a match with Wills," said O'Rourke. "He failed to give me a definite answer on that, and later when I raised it to $800,000, he again evaded me. Now I'm offering him the biggest purse ever proposed for a gest purse ever proposed for a fight."

To suggestions that Rickard's contract with Dempsey would prevent the champion from entering any other negotiations for a bout this year, O'Rourke replied that he considered the title holder free to ccept a better proposition.

Rickard has guaranteed Dempsey $450,000 for a title bout around September 16 against any opponent the promoter selects, but preferably Gene Tunney.

Although split on the subject, the State athletic commission so far has not altered its insistence that Wills be given first call for a title bout. O'Rourke believes his move will draw official support.

Harris hit right through the hole that Sewell had left vacant. If Sewell had been in position it might have been a double play, certainly Harris would have been out. This sort of batting may not be as spectacular as some of the long ranging flies that come from the bats of the boys that close their eyes and swing, but it will do a team a great deal more good. The gray matter that Harris has been applying to his batting shows in his average as well, which is 40 points above his mark of last year, despite the terrible slump he experienced at the start of the season. It has been many a day since such a fight has been seen in these parts. Neither man backed a step in the entire desperate journey. Both pitched in at every round, and tearing in, discarded science, and slugged away in the center of the ring round after round, both giving everything they had.

First one and then the other would be out in front, and the lead alternated so rapidly it was impossible to name a winner at the end. The draw verdict proved a popular one.

Bushy Graham, 118, got the decision over Frankle Genaro, 112, in the second ten-rounder.

GRID CLASSIC CLINCHED BY CHICAGO

Contract Signed for

Staging of Army-

Navy Game. A "clincher" was put on plans for the 1926 Army-Navy football game here today at a conference between powers that be at the Naval Academy and municipal officials of Chicago. A contract was signed for the game to be staged in the South Park stadium, now under construction in the Windy City. It will have 100,000 seating capacity.

Following the conference, Rear Admiral Louis M. Nulton, superintendent of the academy, announced that the contract includes the stipulations that were made after a series of conferences several months ago. Chief among these are that the Naval and Military Academies each will receive an allotment of 40,000 tickets, and the other 20,-000 will be disposed of at public sale in Chicago.

The municipal authorities also guaranteed to cover the costs of transportation, meals and accommoiations for the regiment of midshipmen and corps of West Point cadets. Minor details are yet to be adjust-ed, Admiral Nulton said.

TEADING the Chicago H EADING the Chicago party here today was Representative Fred D. Britten, through whose efforts selection of Chicago as the game city, was largely responsible. John Bain, park commissioner; George Donoghue, general superintendent of parks, and Edward J. Kelley, president of the South Park commission, made up the conference party.

It was Navy's turn to select the te for the big service classic, and the Chicago proposition was so attractive that it could hardly be turned down. Authorities of the Military Academy assented to the arrangement, so that the contract signed today automatically carried with it the approval of the West Point officials.

New York, May 17 (By the Associated Press).—Trading interest in the bond market today was Sale Is confined to a few groups in which buying and selling operations were based on special developments. The general run of railroad, public utility and industrial liens moved within a narrow trading area and prices were little changed on the day.

Foreign obligations continued to hold attention because of their reaction to the latest political and financial developments in Euro pean countries. Polish bonds were strengthened by a belief that order had been restored after last week's revolutionary outbreak, but on later reports that conditions were still unsettled, the 8 per cent issue lost a part of its early 2-point gain.

Renewed selling pressure against French and Belgian bonds followed the slump in these exchanges, which carried French francs to a new low record below 3 cents. Italian 7s also were heavy. Liquidation in each case was apparently based on uncertainty over the outcome of financial reform plans which are expected eventually to reestablish all continental currencies on a sounder basis. The French situation, at the same time, was clouded by reports of growing opposition to the debt funding agreement.

In the field of new financing, discussions of foreign loans held first place. Negotiations for a $30,000,000 Brazilian loan were reported to be nearing completion, with prospects that a bond issue of this amount will be placed on the market by Dillon, Read & Co. within the next fortnight. The same bankers are engineering additional financing of $25,000,000 or more for German steel companies, but this loan will not be ready for offering until later in the summer.

Among the few corporation issues in which trading interest was aroused were the Warner Sugar bonds, which rallied from 2 to 4 points; Rogers Brown 7s, which fell back 7 points, and Wheeling & Lake Erie consolidated 4s, which advanced more than a point. Olls were strengthened by the announcement of higher crude oil prices.

White House Road Material Is Sought

Maj. U. S. Grant 3d, director of the office of public buildings and public parks, and F. T. Gartside, chief of the parks maintenance division of that office, will return from Philadelphia today, where they have been searching for a less dusty surfacing material for the roadway in front of the White House. A tar material here is opposed as a dirt producer and a concrete drive objected to in the interest of economy. Philadelphia employs several types of road surfacing, and it is hoped one of these will fill the local requirements. If results are obtained, recommendations will probably be made for a deficiency appropriation for the selected material, which will be laid while President Coolidge is on his vacation.

WILKES LEAVES CITY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE

Resigns as Fourth Assistant Corporation Counsel; Others Move Up.

The resignation of James Wilkes, fourth assistant corporation counsel, was reported yesterday to the commissioners by Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens. Mr. Wilkes, who was the District's legal expert on condemnation, will retire to private law practice tomorrow.
"We are losing a man who is extraordinarily faithful and efficient," said Mr. Stephens.
The corporation counsel recommended to the commissioners promotions for all his assistants rank-motions for all his assistants ranking below Mr. Wilkes, and appointment of a new one.

Edward W. Thomas, fifth assistant, at $2,400 a year, will succeed to Mr. Wilkes' post at $3,000. Alex.

H. Bell, jr., will succeed Mr. Thomas and Water L. Fowler will move up to Mr. Bell's present rank.
These three are now in the police courts. Richmond B. Keech, representing the District before the juvemile court, will move up to succeed Mr. Fowler in police court. Paul J. Sedgwick will be appointed to the juvenile court post. All these assistants will continue to receive $2,400, except Mr. Thomas.
